CHARLES-TOWN, July 5.

DON Juan de Leon Fandino, Commander of a Man of War Snow, call'd the St John Baptiſto, taken by Capt. Thomas Frankland the 4th of June, 1742, had been 40 Years at Sea, and bore a Commiſſion under the King of Spain 23 Years of that Time, ſometimes as Captain of the Guarda Coſtas, and ſometimes Commandant of the Gallies at Havanna. He had gone thro' many Bruſhes; taken firſt and laſt THIRTY EIGHT Engliſh Veſſels, and was never taken himſelf 'till now. He commanded at the taking of Capt. Jenkins's Ship when his Ears were cut off; he fought an Engliſh Man of War of 20 Guns, off Point de Cavallies, with two Gallies; he carried ſome Succours to St Auguſtine before the Siege, and Capt Warren appearing off that Bar, he went out and attack'd him; he was Commandant of the Gallies during that Siege; and, when our Forces were drawn off, he was order'd out with the black Sloop, to look for ſome Veſſels laden with Proviſions, when he took a Rice ſhip or two, Mr. Thomas Poyle's Boat, and fought Capt. Thraſher the Jamaica Privateer when he had no more than 24 Hands; he was the Man generally employed to ſcour the Bays of Campeachy and Honduras, or to go on any deſperate Attempt, for which no one was more fitting, as will appear by his engaging the Roſe ſo reſolutely and long as he did, the Particulars of which are hereafter mentioned. In February laſt he ſail'd from Havanna to St Auguſtine, as Convoy to Four Veſſels laden with Proviſions, and Recruits; immediately from his Arrival he proceeded on a Cruiſe to the Northward, having 80 Men on board, and ſoon pick'd up three Veſſels, viz. the Lake, Capt. Pharour, from Barbados for this Place, the St Andrew, Capt Greig, laden with Rice, and a Sloop bound to Boſton, laden with Pitch and Tar, theſe Veſſels he ſent away to Havanna, and went himſelf to St. Auguſtine to take in ſome more Men, and then made the beſt of his Way for the Coaſt of Virginia, where he preſently pick'd up Four Veſſels, two ſhips, a Brigt and a Schooner; the Ships were laden with Tobacco from Maryland, one bound to London, the other to Whitehaven; the Schooner laden with Pork, Corn and Peaſe, bound to New England; the Brigt with Salt, which he gave to the Engliſh Priſoners, (about 40 in Number) to get clear of them: With the Ships and Schooner he propoſed to make the beſt of his Way to Havanna, and departed from the Capes of Virginia the 30th of April, but, meeting with a great many contrary Winds, put them out of their Reckoning, when falling in with Cat Iſland which he took for Crooked Iſland, and endeavouring to clear it as ſuch, bore away S W. for the Havanna, which run them a good Way down Exuma Sound. They were diſcovered by the Roſe in the Grey of the Morning, about 2 Leagues diſtant in the Wind's Eye, plying to Windward; as ſoon as they diſcover'd the Roſe, the Snow and Schooner (who were the Head moſt) put about to ſpeak with the Ships, and then threw out Engliſh Colours; the Roſe gave them Chaſe under French Colours, concluding the Snow was a Veſſel they had been inform'd of at Providence, call'd the King of the Sea, which was out from Havanna with 160, and the Schooner her Concert with 80 Men, and the Ships their Prizes; but, about Eleven o'Clock when ſhe came pretty near them, they took one of the Ships to be Spaniſh built, and then imagin'd they were from Old-Spain going to Havanna, under Convoy; Capt. Frankland then threw out his proper Colours and fir'd a ſhot a-croſs the Snow's Fore foot, upon which they all directly hawl'd down the Engliſh and hoiſted Spaniſh Colours, the Snow with the two ſhips bearing right down upon him, and when the Snow came at about 100 Yards Diſtance of him ſhe threw in her Broad ſide, which was immediately follow'd by that of both Ships; the Snow appearing to be the Veſſel of the greateſt Force, Capt. Frankland reſerv'd all his Fire 'till he came cloſe along ſide of her, and then pour'd in a whole Broad ſide, which ſhe as warmly return'd, with the Addition of Fire and poiſon'd Arrows; the Ships continued a briſk Fire at him, which was return'd by now and then a ſhot from the Roſe, as her Guns happen'd to bear upon them, for her main Force was levell'd at the Snow; in this Manner was Capt Frankland engag'd for Three Hours, moſt part of the Time within Piſtol ſhot of the Snow, when the two Ships endeavour'd to run from him, one to Windward, the other before the Wind; Capt. Frankland then endeavour'd to lay the Snow on board, which they avoided with the utmoſt Precaution, by running athwart him, in order to rake him fore and aft, which ſhe once did; the Snow held out a full half Hour after the Ships ſtood away, maintaining a very hot Fire, tho' her Sails and Rigging were cut all to Rags, her Maſts and Yards ſo maul'd nothing could have ſupported them leſs than St Antonio, St Hoſea, with about a Dozen more Saints, which they had ſo artfully placed round the Foot of their Maſts as to prevent their falling down; Fandeno had determin'd to accompany his Saints to the Elyſians rather than be taken, but his People at laſt entirely quitted the Deck, and left him to fight alone, when an Engliſh Priſoner hawl'd down the Colours and cry'd for Quarters; Capt. Frankland immediately took the Spaniards on board, mann'd the Snow and order'd her to give Chaſe to the Ship to Leward, whilſt he gave Chaſe to the Ship and Schooner to Windward, which continued the Night following, in the Morning he came up with the Ship and took her, found ſhe was hull'd by ſeveral of his ſhot, one of which had wounded Three Engliſh Priſoners on board and narrowly eſcap'd killing them all; the Schooner in the Night had given him the ſlip, but about Noon he diſcover'd her to Leward and ſoon took her, then ſtood away for Little-Iſland, where the Snow was order'd to wait for him, but not meeting with her there, was afraid ſome Accident had befall'n her; after waiting about 30 Hours ſtood away for Providence, where he found the Snow, and with her the Ship, which ſhe took about 12 o'Clock at Night, both very leaky, the Ship having receiv'd one 9 lbs ſhot under Water and ſeveral above; the Snow had one continued Breach in her ſide four Feet in Length. Capt. Frankland lay off Providence one Day, waiting for the Veſſels to come out to him, then proceeded to Bahama Iſland, where he ſtay'd 24 Hours to repair and fit them for the Sea, there he found Two Nine Pound ſhot in the Head of the the Snow's Main-Maſt, a Multitude thro' her ſides, &c. On board the Roſe there was but one Man kill'd, in the Engagement, and five or ſix ſlightly wounded, tho' they had two Four Pound ſhot came amongſt the thickeſt on the Quarter Deck, which paſs'd through the Arm Cheſt, ſtove the Binacle, Compaſſes and Glaſſes all to Pieces, tore ſeveral of the Men's Trowſers, and the Splinters flew as thick as Hail. Capt. Frankland very narrowly eſcap'd the Loſs of both his Legs.

The following is an Account of the Motions of the Spaniſh Fleet now in St. Simon's's Harbour, and thoſe of General Oglethorpe ſince their firſt Appearance.

On Tueſday the 22d ult. an Alarm came from the Camp at St. Simon's to General Oglethorpe at Frederica, upon which he immediately took Horſe, and arriving there diſcover'd Nine Sail of Spaniſh Veſſels, which ſtood off and on all that Day.

Wedneſday the 23d but two were ſeen, which diſappear'd in about two Hours, on a Squall ariſing

Thurſday the 24th two large Top ſail Veſſels appear'd, which the General ſent his Cutter to reconnoitre, but a Squal ariſing they ſoon got out of Sight, and the Cutter return'd; immediately upon her Return, the General order'd his Regiment to be drawn up, and took 100 Men therefrom, with which he embark'd on board three Scout-Boats for Fort William on Amelia-Iſland, but when he had got into Cumberland Sound, he was chas'd and attack'd by ſix Gallies, through which he fought his Way, and Night favouring, got off ſafe and arrived at Fort William; the General in this Engagement had not one Man hurted, except in the Boat commanded by Lieut Tolſon, with 33 Soldiers (beſides Rowers) and 10 Swivel Guns on board, which ran away as ſoon as attack'd and had one Man kill'd and two others wounded

Having landed the Men at Fort William, Friday the 25th in the Morning the General ſet ſail in his Guard-Schooner, came by the Gallies again, without being attack'd, and arrived at the Camp; in the Afternoon the Gallies put to Sea, and went off.

Saturday the 26th the ſix Gallies return'd into St Simon's Harbour, join'd by ſeven Sail more, viz one Schooner, three Sloops and three Gallies; that Afternoon Capt. William Gray with Ten Indians, on * Cumberland Iſland, ſaw a great Number of Row-Boats detach'd from thoſe Veſſels, full of Men who all landed on the ſaid Iſland to the Number of between 900 and 1000; he was ſo near that the Indians would fain have fir'd upon the Spaniards as they landed, had he not diſſwaded them from ſo doing, and entreated them to withdraw unperceiv'd to Amelia the next Iſland, to give Information at Fort William of what they had ſeen, which they accordingly did.

* On the S.W. ſide of this Iſland is ſituate, on a high Neck of Land, Fort St Andrew's.

Sunday the 27th the Veſſels continuing there, the General diſpatch'd Mr Malryne with an Expreſs to his Honour the Lieutenant Governor, and Mr William Smith with another to Capt Hardy, who coming down ſaw one Veſſel cruizing off Tybee, and were chas'd by a Sloop and Galley off St. Catherine, on Monday laſt, and very narrowly eſcap'd being taken by their Launches Mr. William Smith, (who gave us the above Information) arrived in Town on Friday Morning about two o'Clock; he ſays, he ſaw moſt of the above Motions; that when he came away from Frederica, the Spaniards were ſailing about the Harbour, with all their Colours diſplay'd, as if their own; that the General was fitting out with all the Men he cou'd get, Capt Thompſon's Ship of 22 Carriage Guns; and, that at Port Royal, laſt Wedneſday, all the Militia was in Arms, and prepar'd for a vigorous Defence in Caſe of an Attack.

We hear, that his Honour the Lieutenant Governor has been pleaſed to appoint Capt. George Gibſon to be Commander of the Beaufort Row Galley.

On Tueſday return'd from her Cruiſe, his Majeſty's Snow the Hawk. And,

The ſame Day arrived from Cape-Fear, his Majeſty's Snow the Swift, Capt. Bladwell Commander.

Lieutenant Keller is appointed Commander of the Hawk, in the room of Capt. Bruce, deceas'd.

Wedneſday ſail'd on a Cruiſe, in Company with the Beaufort Row Galley, Capt. George Gibſon, his Majeſty's Ship the Flamborough, commanded by Capt. Haymer.

Yeſterday ſail'd, for Frederica directly, to aſſiſt General Oglethorpe, his Majeſty's Snows the Swift and Hawk, commanded by Capt Bladwell and Capt Keller

Juſt now we hear that Capt. James Barrett will be appointed Commander of the Charles Town Row Galley, which is immediately to be fitted out, in order to put to Sea this Week
